Competence to Master the Future

An unprecedented demand for medical know-how exists today. Innovative developments in the field of medical technology, sophisticated new treatment methods, increasingly more stringent requirements for hospital and quality management and a healthy interest in acquiring new knowledge have given rise to an enormous and ever-increasing demand for additional training.

Sharing Knowledge for Life

The Aesculap Academy enjoys a worldwide reputation as a leading forum for basic and advanced training in the field of medicine. Since 1995, it has offered accredited and non-accredited medical education. Aesculap Academy programs provide knowledge to medical practitioners, hospital personnel and hospital management personnel to master the future. Reaching across borders, cultures and languages, the Aesculap Academy has helped medical professionals in more than 44 countries achieve their goals of continuous professional growth. Its lifetime partnerships with medical professionals throughout Europe, the USA, Africa, Central and South America, Australia and Asia provide crucial knowledge to keep them on the leading edge of their profession.

The Aesculapium

The Aesculapium in Tuttlingen, Germany is the world headquarters of the Aesculap Academy. Its architecture cites the most ancient center of dialogue in the field of medical knowledge – the temple devoted to the Greek god of Healing, Asclepius. True to this ancient divinity from which it takes its name, the Aesculap Academy worldwide is dedicated to the propagation of knowledge and interdisciplinary dialogue. It pursues these aims in line with international standards as an independent establishment.

In 2011, more than 75,000 surgeons were trained by the Aesculap Academy worldwide.
